Big Patriotic Meeting in Alderson.

Prominent speakers raise enthusiasm

A large crowd, splendid speeches and the best of music marked the Alderson Patriotic Rally on Friday night in the Adanac Parlor.

Dr. S. F. McEwen as Chairman started the enthusiasm going. In a few well chosen remarks at 8:30 P. M. The News owing to limited time and space can give only brief references to the several splendid addresses.

N. A. McLarty a leading barrister of Medicine Hat was the opening speaker. Mr. McLarty gave a short interesting resume of the leading events of the war to date. He made special reference to magnificent participation of the Canadian Lads in the terrible conflict. Mr. McLarty made an appeal that all at home should do their share to assist the brave boys at the front.

C. F. Jamieson former editor of the Morning Times is always a welcome visitor to Alderson and his patriotic address of Friday night added greatly to his popularity in town. Mr. Jamieson roused the enthusiasm of the audience many a time by the wonderful word pictures he drew of the gallant performances of the Allied nations, with special references to bleeding Belgium and embattled Serbia. Mr. Jamieson stated that all at home could and should make sacrifices in giving to the funds for Patriotic purposes.

Harry W. Johnson at this juncture gave a sympathetic talk on the heroic life and death of Miss Erith Cavell, English nurse, martyred nurse.

Mr. T. M. Tweedie President of the South Alberta Branch Patriotic Fund gave the audience facts and figures about the practical working out of the funds. Mr. Tweedie's address was intensely interesting and also instructive. The speaker told of the great rights and liberties we enjoy as British Subjects. These rights must be protected. We must either fight or pay.

At the close of Mr. Tweedie's personal appeal several young ladies marshalled by Mrs. W. M. Cotter and dressed in fairy costume distributed subscription cards, returnable to the local treasurer Mr. A. J. Drummond. Have you handed yours in?

A glance at the programme in another column will assure any one of the excellence of the musical portion of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Woods were heard to great advantage in their several numbers. The Chorus composed of Mesdames Brown and Wood, the Messrs Mackenzie, Seymour and Harris and Messrs Wood, Riddle and Thornton rendered two pleasing numbers. It is hoped that this organization will remain intact and take part in future affairs.

Rev. T. Taylor made an efficient accompanist. The singing was in the hands of the Messrs Woolven, Franklin, and Mackay.

See Breen's horses at Cole's Barn on Tuesday. It will pay you.

Mr. Mailman has returned after spending several months in Saskatchewan.

Read the ad of N. E. Stuart and Co. It contains an announcement re the keys for the Kitchen Cabinet.

The Patriotic Committee will complete the canvass of the town and district. Don't wait to be canvassed.

Messrs Benjamin threshed over 14000 bushels of grain. Our Xmas lines of candy have arrived. See them. Palace Ice Cream Parlor.

Nominations for Village Commissioners for 1916 will be the order of the day at the office of the Secretary, Monday evening.

Herbert Maynard of Brutus was a visitor to the News on Thursday. In the evening he left to visit his old home in Toronto.

The C. F. Starr Lumber Co. have a new announcement in this issue. Better Read it.

Chancey Benjamin of Blugrass is the champion long distance subscriber to this paper. On Monday he took our breath away by renewing for five years. His label now reads Jan. 1st 1921. It is a long way to Tipperary. NEXT!

Constable Hollands and Justice of the Peace Swanson were in town from Suffield on Saturday. In conjunction with Justice of the Peace Hall a session of the Juvenile court was held and the cases of several children from Suffield and Alderson were satisfactorily dealt with.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, and Messrs Gordon Rosenberg, R. Johnson, and W. D. MacKay were pleasantly entertained at the home of John Wray on Sunday evening.

The Irrigation Convention at Bassano A FEW NOTES

HON. DUNCAN MARSHALL, Minister of Agriculture presided over the affair. Needless to say the business of presiding was well done. In a rapid fire speech on opening day he told of the wonderful strides the Province was making along the lines of Agricultural Education.

The New Lieutenant Governor, Dr. Brett opened the proceedings on Tuesday morning when about 200 delegates were already in their places. He was escorted to the Convention Hall by a body of 60 mounties, resplendent in their red coats and elaborate trappings. There is no use of talking the red coat has it all over the khaki for dress occasions.

Messrs Trago, Moore, Buckley, et al. of Gleichen were present in full force to re-iterate their grievances, re their agreements with the C. P. R. In reply to their complaints this year Mr. Dennis of the Resources Dept. of the C. P. R. stated that 95 p. c. of the farmers in the Gleichen district were now satisfied. Out of 800 farmers who had made complaints over 600 had accepted the re-classification of the Dominion Government.

The exhibits in the Exhibition Hall while not extensive were of high quality. The display of small fruits raised on Irrigation Land near Lethbridge was a most interesting one.

Irrigation makes the farmer independent of rainfall and insures good crops, not occasionally, but every year.
Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the king of forage, which insures best returns in dairying and mixed farming.
Irrigation means intensive farming and close settlement with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.
Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation Block is no longer an experiment, the year 1914 having absolutely demonstrated its success wherever intelligently applied.
You can buy irrigated land from the Canadian Pacific Railway at prices ranging from $35 to $75 per acre, with twenty years' to pay and the privilege of a loan of $2,000.00 for improvements (4% interest); no principal payment at the end of first and second years and no water rental for first year. MOBILIZE CANADA'S ECONOMIC RESOURCES

Canadian War Correspondent Breake
New Ground—Organization and Specialization

Mr. Britton Cooke, one of the best known Canadian newspaper men at the front, has recently written a brilliant article which he calls "The Organization of Canada's Resources." Mr. Cooke believes that Canada's economic development "will be seriously impaired in the years following the war unless immediate steps are taken to mobilize the productive forces of the country with a view to making Canada more self-contained."

After dwelling on the penalty of inefficiency, Mr. Cooke puts Canada's position, as he sees it, in the following paragraph:

Economic Autonomy Necessary

"Canada's political autonomy" has been hotly defended at all times. The economic autonomy of the country has been little considered. The defeat of reciprocity in 1911 was regarded as a sort of economic Declaration of Independence against the United States. It came like, and how real that independence really was and to be estimated by a careful perusal of the lists of Canadian exports of Canadian produce to the United States, and the imports into Canada of United States goods for Canadian consumption. How the trade organizations of our neighboring republic affect Canada may be observed in the shipments of the United States Fruit Trust in the Canadian West where, although British Columbia fruit is just as good, if not better, and although the Oregon and Washington products have to pay duty to enter Canada, yet one finds that fruit exporters the Canadian fruit in the shops of Calgary and Edmonton. How the old-established trade connections of the United States such Canadian raw materials into United States mills, there to be prepared for export by people of that country instead of by Canadians, thence to be carried by United States railways to United States ports instead of by Canadian roads to Canadian ports—may be studied in the operations of the Chicago packing houses who draw Canadian live stock in the Chicago "transforming market," kill the animals, dress and pack the meat, prepare the by-products, ship the main quantities through the forty-million consuming market of the Eastern United States, allowing the surplus to spill into the export channels at New York, Boston, and Philadelphia, and meantime actually sell back to Canada the fertilizer, lard, soap, leather and even beef and beef extracts made from Canadian cattle! Older establishments, greater specialization in the various departments of production and more efficient marketing and distributing organization—these three factors menace the economic integrity of Canada.

Work Up Raw Materials at Home

People of the United States—for whom in this regard one can feel nothing but respect—are slowly forcing Canada to engage in the less profitable departments of the wheat-growing, the supplying of ore, timber, pulp, fish—unfinished materials for United States workmen to finish and transform, directly or indirectly, into export commodities. Fifty cents worth of a Canadian raw material may become, in the hands of foreign workmen, ten dollars worth of goods when finished and possibly, sold back to Canadians. To Canada comes the fifty cents as Canada's fee for the material. To the foreigner goes the $5.00 for finishing. For the office expenses of the makers and marketers, for advertising, for wages to salesmen! The efficiency of the United States business organizations—made robust by a high protective tariff and still well-protected—is making a permanent impression upon the slowly forming economic character of Canada. Already there are parts of Canada where it does not pay to grow cauliflower because of the cauliflower specialization centered in Maryland. When peace in Europe is restored and the warring nations are to be rebuilt, it will be the efficient nation that fills its order-book with orders and its cash-register with money. The less efficient nation foundering alongside, will have the privilege of carrying the hod, shovelling the coal, teaming a few loads of wheat, sweeping up the floor and fattening itself on such crumbs of trade and profit as may fall from the rich man's table.

The remedy lies in the careful organization of Canada's resources and productive forces, coupled with drastic measures in the way of trade policies, such as our great neighbor to the south has adopted, with remarkable success during the past hundred years. Canadians cannot afford to continue indefinitely as suppliers of raw material to the nations who have developed their industrial forces to a high degree of efficiency with the aid of a beneficent trade policy. There is a lesson for Canada in the development of the United States.

THE PRICE OF WHEAT AND MIXED FARMING

Prominent Canadian Newspapers
Makes Original Comment on Wheat
Situation

"A recent article Mr. Britton Cooke makes a number of startling statements about the wheat problem in Canada. As he views the situation from a somewhat different angle than most of our readers have been accustomed to see it, we quote the following extracts from his article, believing that, while many of our readers may not agree, they will at least be interested in seeing how a shrewd observer on the outside regards Western problems:

Place of Wheat

Wheat has played an important role in the drama of Canada's evolution. It is a question whether the part may not turn out to have a sinister end. It is possible that Canada may some day regard wheat as California, looking to-day at her all-butsterile ex-wheat ranches, now regards that yellow crop. As a means of opening a country to agriculture, advertising its fertility, making early traffic for railways, and as a negotiable commodity for which, like gold, there is always a market of some sort, wheat has served a purpose and may continue to be of use to Canada for a long time to come. But it is a mistake for Canadians to suppose that wheat has been a profitable crop. The Easterner travelling in the West is shocked to learn, as he is bound to learn if he listens, that the wealthy men of the West made their money, not out of wheat, but by selling farm or city land at enhanced prices, or by mining or farming. If Canada relies now upon wheat as her great means of paying her debts abroad and securing further advances, then she should face the fact that according to official figures for 1910, 1911, 1912 and 1913, her wheat-growers earned only a hired man's wages plus a profit of eighty-seven cents per acre of wheat per year! This has undoubtedly meant a cheaper food for foreign workmen, but it has meant sacrifice for Canadians. Possibly no other course was open at the time, but to rely upon wheat to make Canada rich means slow progress and a low standard of living. To engage our whole population in wheat-growing would be to hire ourselves as a nation at practical farm laborer's wages. In the four years referred to the average return to the farmer in Canada on wheat was sixty-six cents per bushel.

The Cost of Wheat

It cost thirty-five cents (average) to haul the bushel to Liverpool and pay the incidental expenses. It costs 112 per acre to prepare the soil, sow, reap, thresh and team the grain from that acre to the elevator, allowing farm labor at 66 cents yielded $12.37—$7.87 cents more than cost. No doubt some farmers made much more than that, but as many as made more how many made less? If wheat prices were tending upward there might be a gleam of comfort. But they do not tend upward, except for rare and short periods such as the one now prevailing, when exceptional circumstances have altered the ordinary conditions of the wheat markets of the world. Seventy-five per cent. of Russia's population is agricultural population on seemingly unlimited acres of excellent wheat land. The sons of Western farmers who may be helping to force open the Dardanelles are bringing closer the day of cheaper wheat for the world. The mislions in India and the government authorities in Egypt—all are helping directly or indirectly to increase the world's wheat production. Chill is now able to send her wheat to Liverpool through the Panama Canal. The world total wheat production increased between 1906 and 1913 from 2,540,000,000 bushels to 2,957,813,000 bushels, or by a total of over 400,000,000 bushels. In other words, the world in seven years added to its wheat supply more than five times the total export of wheat from Canada in 1914! This merely goes to indicate that the general decline of wheat prices to be observed in British records since 1880-85 is likely to continue, and that from getting sixty-six cents a bushel on the average the Canadian farmer may come even less. The reduction of transportation rates on wheat—a thing that may come through the increase of east and west traffic on Canadian railways and not chiefly by arbitrary rate reductions—may for a time keep up the price to the farmer. Access to the American market might for a time postpone the abandonment of wheat as the almost exclusive Western crop. But the inevitable tendency of the world is toward greater wheat production, and it seems not unfair to argue that the tendency of wheat prices is to go ultimately so far down that only the simplest of nations
